Description :	Designed for demanding industrial environments, this high-performance aqueous inkjet press delivers exceptional productivity, reliability, and print quality across a wide range of applications, including books, commercial print, newspapers, transactional documents, and high-security printing.&lt;&gt;Available in both monochrome and full-colour CMYK configurations, with simplex or duplex printing options, the press provides the flexibility to meet diverse production requirements while maintaining outstanding image consistency and sharp detail.&lt;&gt;At the heart of the system are custom-engineered Piezo Drop-on-Demand print heads, developed exclusively for Orient to ensure superior precision, long-term durability, and optimized ink performance. Combined with advanced aqueous ink technology the press delivers vibrant colours, crisp text reproduction, and excellent substrate compatibility.&lt;&gt;To maximize efficiency and streamline production, the press can be equipped with a range of integrated finishing solutions, including sheeting, folding, perforating, and perfect binding. This end-to-end workflow reduces handling shortens turnaround times, and enables highly automated production from roll to finished product.<>The result is a powerful and scalable printing platform designed to help printers increase productivity, reduce operating costs, an meet the growing demand for high-quality, short-run, and variable-data applications.
